President's Message

President Ken conducts the Penny Social with Betsy and Frank

Hello Polar Star Lodge

Thanks to all of you who participated and attended our March Penny Social. We had such a great time re-distributing all of our “treasures”. I’m so glad that we can now call Josie a member of our “team” (although she has already been a valued member for quite some time)!

Don't forget to get registered for the Polar Star Field Trip in July. Barb needs to confirm numbers for the Genealogy Workshop so contact her as soon as possible if you plan to attend.

Your President
Ken Johnson

POLAR STAR

COME FOR COFFEE

With Inger Langsholt

April 2, 2017

Potluck begins at 1:30 p.m.

Please bring your own table service and a dish to pass.

We will be completing the Part 2 requirements for our Cooking Culture Medals as we prepare desserts for the Lodge. Please arrive by noon and contact Barb or Nancy if you will be a baking participant so we can organize baking teams.

We will be preparing the following desserts

Fancy Cake: Bløtkake

Bread: Vafler

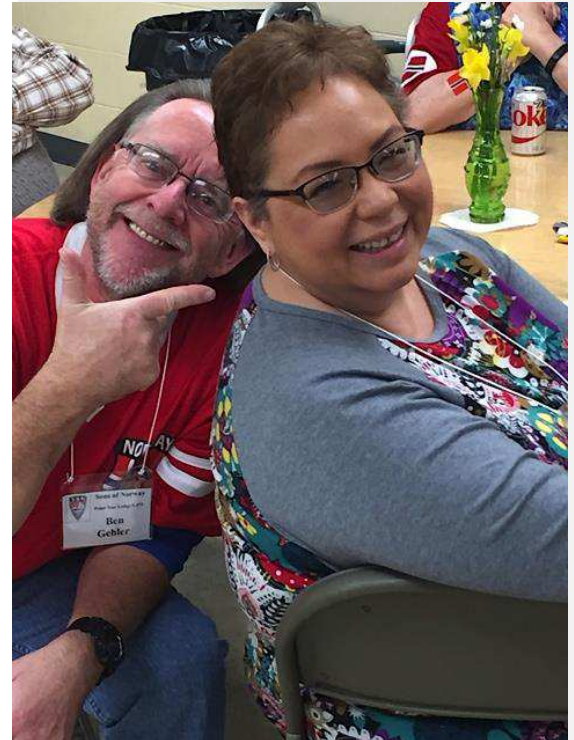

Cookies: Serinakake

Dessert: Fruktsuppe and Tilsørte Bondepiker

Inger Langsholt, the author of “Come for Coffee” will be our guest speaker as we enjoy our desserts. She will talk with us about the importance of coffee and desserts in providing Norwegian hospitality.

Now hear this! “One Meeting of the Norway Temperance Association,” an original musical written by Rob Borchsenius, will be performed at the Norway, Illinois Community Building on Wednesday, April 12th. Some of you will remember Rob from the 2016 Syttende Mai weekend where his father Wayne was honored, along with Dave Johnson, as grand marshals for the weekend.

In case you didn't know, Norway, Illinois was once (1909-1959) a hotbed of temperance activities, and the meetings of the Temperance Society, as well as many other community activities, were held in the Temperance Building in Norway. Rob is an extraordinary story teller and has in his possession minutes of one of the meetings of the Temperance Society. He has combined his story-telling talent with a talent for writing and performing music. This play is Rob's latest venture in the musical field, and it promises to be an evening of fun and entertainment... because it is rumored there will be beer and wine available at the dinner. Don't be surprised if Carrie Nation shows up wielding an axe to rid the place of demon rum! And, the waiters and waitresses will be the musicians and will perform while they are serving the meal.

This is a fund raiser for the Norsk Museum, and at $35, it is a whale of a bargain. There are only 150 tickets being sold, so, if you're interested, let me or Steve Tanda know right away so you won't be left out.

I look forward to hearing from you.
