Fra Presidenten

It doesn't seem like it should be November already, but as the saying goes "time flies when you're having fun", and we certainly have had fun at Wergeland again this year. We've had another great year of programs to enjoy, a great Syttende Mai banquet and evening, a couple of great pot lucks and the Kornfest parade. And don't forget, we still have the Christmas banquet and our other traditional holiday activities to look forward to before the end of the year. Of course, all of this doesn't happen by itself, it takes planning and volunteers. Between planning and bringing food or participating in some other way, it would be difficult to find anyone who didn't help, so thank you to everyone for what you do for the lodge. It also occurs to me that we don't just do this for our lodge but we also do it to welcome our guests to each meeting and to make them feel welcome. Some of our guests have gone on to become members and their initial experience at a meeting probably has a lot to do with that. That being said, think about inviting a guest to our Christmas banquet to enjoy some Wergeland hospitality.

Our nominating committee is still at work finishing up the final details for next year's officer slate so please consider helping out if you can. I can speak from experience that we have a great group and you'll find it enjoyable.

I was not able to attend the October meeting (my football crew got assigned to a makeup game from earlier this fall) but I understand that the idea of having lunch before the meeting was well received and we will try it again. My hope is that this will help us to attract more guests to our meetings and for those guests and ourselves to enjoy our social time that is so important to our lodge.

Enjoy the fall weather, the turning leaves and the quiet time before the holiday activities begin and I will see you at the November Meeting. -Dave Lunch was served first at 6:30 for a trial basis.

Business meeting was opened by Vice President Ramona Johnson at 7:15. The Pledge of Allegiance and the three national anthems were sung.

Guests introduced were Trudy and Rolf Olson. New member Jeanne Larson was welcomed.

Treasurer's report was given by Shirley Schoenfeld.

Foundation cans were passed and Secretary Adrian Johnson read a thank you letter from Norskedalen for a donation we sent to them.

2020 nominating committee chair Ramona noted we still have several officer openings that need to be filled. Please respond.

The Heritage Dinner Banquet for December 5th at the Legion at 6:00 plans have been finalized. Dinner will be catered by C & C Catering. Tickets are $15.00 and are available from now until November 25th.

People seemed to like the lunch first idea so we will have it that way for our November meeting also.

There are only five 2020 calendars remaining to be sold although more can be ordered. We are accepting Christmas Cards for our servicemen and women.

October birthdays were serenaded.

The next general meeting will be held November 7th at 6:30 at the Legion.

Next board meeting will be Tuesday October 8th, 5:30 at Perkins.

Meeting was adjourned at 7:45. Closing song was sung.

Our program was presented by Shirley Schoenfeld and Mark Quade on the History of Sons of Norway.

There were 50 people in attendance.

Adrian Johnson, Lodge Secretary.

Treasurer's report from Shirley Schoenfeld: General Fund has a balance of 6530.86, which includes memorials and encumbered funds for dancers; Scholarship Fund has a balance of $2084.50; Savings Account has a balance of $18521.70. Total financial assets of $27,137.06.

November is Foundation Month!

As we embrace our founders' original intent from 125 years ago, let's also recognize the outreach of the Foundation. Members' contributions have made possible over 1.3 million dollars in scholarships, about $400,000 in grants and a half million dollars in humanitarian aid. Thank you for your monthly contributions when we pass the cans and for your additional support during membership renewal. These individual gifts make up more than 80% of our funds.

Tusen takk for your support of our grant and scholarship recipients!

Til minner om...

...Donald Sannes who passed away October 11, 2019. Donald rejoined our lodge in March of 2007. He and his wife Andrea both joined in 1987 until 1996 for a total of over 21 years. Our sincere sympathy to Andrea and his family.

...Marilyn Trisch of Onalaska, who passed away October 21, 2019. Marilyn became a member in November of 2000 when she retired from working at Trinity Church in La Crosse. She took on being the Chair of our Social Committee for many years. She was kind and generous to all and proud of her Norwegian heritage. She is survived by a sister and nieces and nephews. She had been in declining health and passed away at Onalaska Care Center. She will be missed by so many members.

...Joyce Halvorson of Holmen, who passed away October 3, 2019. She became a member in 1998 when she retired from teaching school. She and Jim hosted many exchange students from Norway. Our sympathy to Jim and family.

...Rev. Oscar Trygve Holter of Holmen. From his obituary: "Trig" was proud of his Norwegian heritage and deeply loved his family. He joined Sons of Norway May 16, 1979 at Lodge 5-544, and transferred to Wergeland in August 2014, but became ill and moved, so his membership ended June, 2018. He told Shirley that his relative by the same name had died, so he could begin using his real name Oscar.

Condolences til...

....Shirley Schoenfeld in the death of her sister-in-law Wilma Viner (Gene's sister) who passed away October 22 at the age of 95. She lived in La Crosse all her life, was married to Harry Viner and had 10 children (8 living).

God Bedring til...

...Elaine Nelson, who is recovering from illness and would love to hear from her friends in the Sons of Norway.

November Program:

Natalie Kostman will present information about Hillview Urban Agriculture Center that is located at 624 Vine St in La Crosse on the Western Technical College campus. HUAC is a local nonprofit that works to create a healthy community through a local, sustainable, and accessible food system. Programs focus on fostering community connections to increase composting, growing, and preparing and preserving food in the community. Terry Benson will also be in attendance to share her experiences volunteering at HUAC. Having lunch at the beginning of the program "works" for the serving committee as well as for the attendees.

The slate of Wergeland Officers and Committee members are listed below. SOME POSITIONS ARE STILL OPEN! Please don't be shy about stepping forward; if you have questions about any of the positions, please contact a current officer or a member of the Nominating Committee: Ramona Johnson, Dave Glomstad, Kathi Beane, Dee Johnson, and Linda Sherwood.

Darlene Bankes and Marcia Crowley traveled to Bismark, ND to visit Macia's son and family. They also attended North America's largest Scandinavian Festival, Hostfest in Minot, ND. They enjoyed celebrating their Norwegian heritage with the displays of handmade jewelry, carving, painting and fiber arts. Of course there was plenty of Scandinavian food - and Viking games!

Arlan and Doris Henderson entertained 15 people from Norway. They enjoyed lunch and then went for a hayride. Arlan sawed lumber for them and they enjoyed dinner. Lee Grippen, Royce and Lynn Curtis, and Al and Julia Forde of Wergeland Lodge also attended and enjoyed the visitors.

Richard Granum made his 18th trip to Norway this July. While there, he and his host, Jan Ransvik from Ålesund, did a Rhine River cruise, with AMA River Cruises, from Basel, Switzerland to Amsterdam. This was a fascinating trip, so different from the Mississippi.

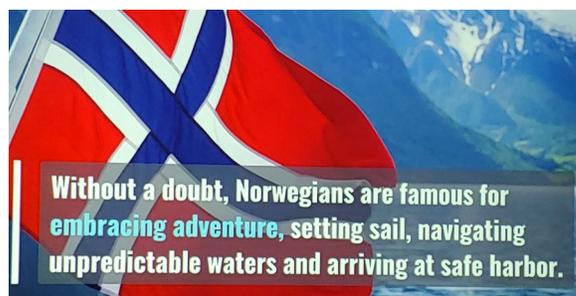

Journey to the Motherland: That was the theme given by Ilene Pavelko's daughters for their trip to Norway this August. Leah (Los Angeles), Rachel (Denver) and Ilene met at O'Hare for a full week of travel to Oslo, Valdres (Oppland), Sognefjord area, and Bergen. They spent time in Fagernes with new-found 6th cousins who showed them the Syndei family farm and mountain farm, Ulnes Kyrkje, and Valdres Folk Museum. They were also able to find Bakke family locations near Aurlandsfjord and Naeroyfjord. In Aurland they stayed two nights near the church where their ancestors were married in 1849, Vangen Kyrkje, built in 1200. Ilene is grateful for all the help she was given by genealogists at the "Combined Stevne of Valdres Samband and Vestlandslag" held at Luther College in June. The Stevne connections deepened her knowledge of her Norwegian roots.

Jeanne Larson also went to Norway this fall through Brekke Tours. She traveled with her son and daughter-in-law.

The Heritage Dinner will be held at the Legion, Dec. 6 at 6:00. C and C catering from Bangor will supply the food for our meal. They offer 2 meats, mashed potatoes and vegetables, salad and relish. We will have lefse from Rushford, Christmas baking for dessert furnished by our members. Tickets are available at the Nov. meeting for $15.00, or call Ramona and reserve your ticket. Phone # 608-7887507. Join us for this festive event!

From the October Program:

At the October meeting, Mark Dregne and Shirley Schoenfeld shared a video of the history of the Sons of Norway.

From Cathy Jo Ells: I have two chairs for sale that were carved by Monroe Olson of Cashton. One is a three-legged Norwegian style chair and the other is a Kubbestol. I can be contacted either at cathyjo-ells@gmail.com or my home phone is (608)788-0217.

Please return any cards for Veterans at the Nov 7 meeting. Also, bring in January: 1) leftover blank Christmas cards and 2) fronts of received cards (no writing on back).

Sons of Norway Mission Statement

The mission of Sons of Norway is to promote and to preserve the heritage and culture of Norway, to celebrate our relationship with other Nordic Countries, and provide quality insurance and financial products to our members.

Lompe and lefse

Lefse is a soft flatbread that is a big part of Norwegian food heritage. Lefse is made out of potato, milk or cream (or lard) and flour, and cooked on a big hot slab called a griddle. You need special tools for lefse baking, long turning sticks and rolling pins, made from wood.

Lefse comes in several thicknesses, and is usually served with butter, cinnamon and sugar between the layers. Lefse is also traditionally served with lutefisk, you roll up the fish in the lefse. It's also served with sylte, a traditional Norwegian and Swedish Christmas bread spread, which you don't want to know about what really is, and I don't want to think about how it's made, because I eat it. You can also use lefse as a tortilla.

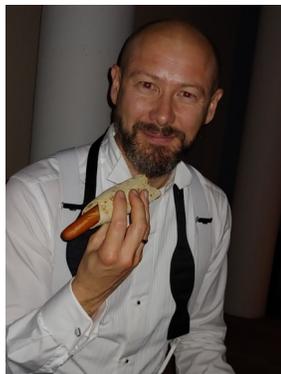

A special type of lefse is "lompe", a small and thin version of lefse which is rolled around a hot dog, in stead (or together with) the regular hot dog bun. This is the customary way to eat hot dogs in Norway, especially on 17th of May. You wrap your sausage in them together with ketchup and mustard, and I personally think it's very strange that lomper is not something that have caught on in other countries. Sausage in a bun is good, and we do have buns in Norway too (very good if you want to put a lot of relish on your sausage), but lompe has a great taste that goes very well together with a sausage.

The above was posted on 29/01/2011 by Lexidh Solstad in Blog "You ask about Norway..."

Pølse med Lompe

Follow recipe (below) for making Lomper, or Small Potato Cakes. Then use your favorite style of sausage, brat or hot dog for the filling. Grilled, boiled or fried- they all taste amazing on fresh lompe. Dress it up – add your typical brat or hot dog fixings. Try out something new--you could add sauerkraut, cole slaw or salsa.

Lomper – Small Potato Cakes

Ingredients

2 lbs. potatoes

1 tsp. salt

1 ¼ cups, approximate, barley flour

Step 1

Boil unpeeled potatoes. Peel, and twice grind, rice, or mash while still warm, until potatoes are smooth and elastic, thus requiring less flour. Add salt during this process, rather than adding it to the water, it increases the elasticity of the potatoes. The more elastic the potatoes, the better the lompe. Cool.

Step 2

Add flour to a small portion of potatoes at a time, stir just enough to make a firm, easily-handled dough. Making a lot of dough at once and leaving it stand may cause the dough to become sticky. Cut off slices with a sharp knife. Press these down lightly with the back of your hand, and finish rolling out with grooved rolling pin into 3-4" rounds. Doing it this way one requires less flour. Brush off all excess flour before baking.

Step 3

Place lompe on medium hot lefse or other griddle and turn often with a pliable spatula. Prick any bubbles that form while baking. When done, they should be light in color with large, brown spots.

Step 4

If the griddle is too hot, lomper will remain raw inside; if too low, they will be hard and tough. Allow them to dry out for a few minutes, then wrap in a clean towel and cover until ready to be served. They are tastiest when used immediately. They can be served with butter and sugar, or with sharp cheese. As for me, it will always be pølse med lompe. [Above recipe from Ekte Norsk Mat—Authentic Norwegian Cooking, available from Vesterheim.

From Old Norse to Modern English

Scandinavia's influence is visible in many ways throughout our Sons of Norway communities, from our sometimes-controversial culinary traditions to our hearty work ethic and mischievous sense of humor. But even in parts of North America without strong ties to Norwegian heritage, there is still one area where the Norse influence has made its way to the mainstream: the English language.

Historically speaking, languages like Latin, French and German get most of the credit for providing the origins of modern English—but Old Norse played an important role too, and it can still be seen today. The following are just a few of the many words inherited from the Vikings that we use every day:

axle – from öxull (axis)
bug – from búkr (insect within tree trunks) blunder – from blundrai (to stumble blindly) bylaw – from bylög (village law) glitter – from glitra (to glitter) haggle – from haggen (to chop) happy – from happ (good fortune / fate / chance) likely – from líkligr (likely) odd – from oddi (third number / casting vote) rotten – from rotinn (decayed) stammer – from stemma (to hinder / dam up) thrift – from þrift (prosperity)
Thursday – from Þorsdagr (Thor's day) ugly – from uggligr (repulsive)

A little in English...

Zain Got an Oscar in the Mail

The students at Breilia School in Hammerfest [Northern Norway] have a movie star in the classroom. His name is Zain Al Rafeea.

14-year-old Zain was born in Syria. During the war, his family fled to Lebanon. One day Zain was walking down the street in Beirut. A woman asked Zain if he wanted to be in a movie. He would play the lead role. The movie was called Capernaum. Capernaum means chaos.

Suing his parents

Zain said yes. He was cast in the film. The film is about very poor children in Lebanon. The film starts in a courtroom in Beirut. Zain plays an impoverished boy.

The boy stands in front of the judge. The judge asks: "Why are you suing your own parents?"

The boy replies: "Because I was born. Should poor parents be allowed to have a lot of children?"

The movie is about growing up in poor families. The children are not allowed to go to school. They have to work. They must give the money to their parents.

The parents are not bad people. They are poor. But the boy says that very poor people should not have so many children.

A package from the postman

Zain Al Rafeea and his family came to Hammerfest in August 2018. After a few months he learned that he might receive an Oscar for being so good in the film. His whole class cheered when they heard the news.

One day Zain had been at a friend's. When he got home, he ran into the mailman. The mailman gave him a package. Inside the package was a gold statuette from the Young Academy Award for Breakthrough Performance Award.

"Youth Oscar"

The Young Academy Award is called the "Youth Oscar." Leonardo DiCaprio and Emma Watson have also received a "Youth Oscar." The gold statuette looks like an adult Oscar.

His father tells nrk.no that Zain was very happy. "He jumped for joy," says his father.

Now Zain will be in several movies. He dreams of going to Hollywood.

Zain's father says the family is doing very well in Hammerfest. He's happy about it.

"We want to share this award with all of Norway," says Ali Al Rafeea.

Litt på Norsk...

Zain fikk en Oscar i posten

Elevene på Breilia skole i Hammerfest har fått en filmstjerne i klasserommet. Han heter Zain Al Rafeea.

14 år gamle Zain ble født i Syria. Under krigen flyktet familien til Libanon. En dag gikk Zain på gata i Beirut. En dame spurte Zain om han ville være med i en film. Han skulle få hovedrollen. Filmen het Kapernaum. Kapernaum betyr kaos.

Saksøker foreldrene

Zain sa ja. Han ble med i filmen. Filmen handler om barn som er veldig fattige i Libanon. Filmen starter med en rettsal i Beirut. Zain spiller en fattig gutt.

Gutten står foran dommeren. Dommeren spør: Hvorfor saksøker du dine egne foreldre?

Gutten svarer: Fordi jeg er født. Bør lutfattige foreldre få mange barn?

Filmen handler om å vokse opp i fattige familier. Barna får ikke gå på skole. De må jobbe. Pengene må de gi til foreldrene.

Foreldrene er ikke slemme. De er fattige. Men gutten sier at veldig fattige folk skal ikke få mange barn.

Fikk pakke av postmannen

Zain Al Rafeea og familien kom til Hammerfest i august 2018. Etter noen måneder fikk han vite at han kanskje skulle få en Oscar for at han hadde vært så flink i filmen. Hele klassen hans jublet av glede da de hørte det.

En dag hadde Zain vært hos en kompis. Da han kom hjem, møtte han postmannen. Postmannen ga ham en pakke. Inne i pakken lå en gullstatuett fra Young Academy Award for Breakthrough Performance Award.

"Ungdoms-Oscar"

Young Academy Award blir kalt "ungdoms-Oscar". Leonardo DiCaprio og Emma Watson har også fått "ungdoms-Oscar". Gullstatuetten ligner en voksen Oscar.

Faren sier til nrk.no at Zain ble veldig glad. – Han hoppet i taket av glede, sier faren.

Nå skal Zain være med i flere filmer. Han drømmer om å dra til Hollywood.

Faren til Zain sier familien har det veldig bra i Hammerfest. Han er glad for det.

– Vi ønsker å dele denne prisen med hele Norge, sier Ali Al Rafeea.
